THE ULTIMATE CLASSIC DIVING WATCH

fourth element

Fourth Element is one of the world's leading dive brands. Founded in 1999, the company set out to design and develop thermal protection apparel based around the principles of performance, innovation and function.

Today, fourth element's products are used all over the world in some of the most extreme diving conditions on the planet, and its equipment is used by professional and recreational divers of all levels.

The company, based in Cornwall UK strives to create products that enhance the diving experience while promoting the health and sustainability of our oceans. Its "Ocean Positive" mission reflects its dedication to preserving the oceans through sustainable practices and innovation.

COMMITMENT TO THE OCEAN

As avid ocean lovers, we are acutely aware of the impact human activities have on marine environments. This awareness drives us to continuously seek innovative ways to reduce our environmental impact.

OUR INITIATIVES INCLUDE:

Sourcing recycled materials: Many of our products are made from recycled ghost fishing nets and other repurposed materials.

Supporting marine conservation: We actively support initiatives and organizations dedicated to ocean conservation, contributing to projects that aim to protect and restore marine ecosystems.

Educational outreach: Through partnerships and community engagement, we strive to raise awareness about the importance of ocean conservation and inspire action among divers and non-divers alike.

EMBRACING THE CHALLENGES

The ocean, vast and mysterious, is a source of immense beauty and wonder and vital to our planet's health. However, it faces significant challenges, from plastic pollution to overfishing and climate change. At fourth element, we see these challenges as a call to action, an opportunity to innovate and make a difference.

We believe in the power of collective effort to turn the tide. By developing sustainable products, supporting marine conservation initiatives, and raising awareness about ocean health, we're committed to being part of the solution. Every step we take towards protecting the ocean is a step towards a brighter, healthier future for all.

JOIN THE ADVENTURE

Dive deeper with the fourth element Pelagic watch and become part of a movement that values exploration, innovation, and the preservation of our blue planet. Whether you're a seasoned diver or new to the underwater world, our values and our equipment are designed to support your adventures and protect the places we cherish.
